MTC is the social enterprise that gives people the inspiration, capability and opportunity to create a fulfilling life. We deliver high impact employment, training and youth programs that help more than 20,000 people every year to gain skills for employment and entrepreneurship, build self-worth, and enable possibilities for transformative change. As a social enterprise, we continue to support and empower at-risk Australians, by reinvesting surplus back into innovative social impact initiatives like Warakirri College, an independent high school for students who need an alternative to mainstream education.

MTC Australia' trainers, assessors and support staff will help you to maximise your learning experience, develop your competency and achieve your learning goals.

4.5 COMPETENCY-BASED TRAINING & ASSESSMENT

Competency-based training develops the skills, knowledge and attitudes required to achieve competency standards. AT MTC Australia, assessments are competency- based assessments. Competency-based assessment is:

- criterion based, meaning the student is not assessed in competition with others, but against a set criteria or benchmark,
- evidence based, meaning the decision of whether a student is competent is based on the evidence they provide to the assessor, and
- participatory, meaning the student is involved in the process of assessment and has the opportunity to negotiate with the assessor the form the assessment activities will take.

For each assessment that is undertaken, a student may receive either a Competent or Not Yet Competent result. In order to be assessed as Competent (C), the student must provide evidence that demonstrates his/her ability to perform the required competencies to the required standard. If a student is deemed Not Yet Competent, he/she has the opportunity to resubmit or re-sit the assessment.

Students are assessed through a range of activities which may include:

- Assignments
- Documented observations
- Completed workbooks
- Presentations of workplace documents, for example diaries, journals and reports
- Simulations or role plays
- Interviews
- Presentations
- Interviews with supervisors and/or employers

4.6 NATIONAL RECOGNITION (CREDIT TRANSFER)

MTC Australia is obligated to acknowledge all nationally recognised qualifications issued by other Registered Training Organisations (RTOs). MTC may need to verify a candidate's qualification/s in the event that the course that she/he would like to enroll in requires pre-requisite units, or if the student would like to apply for a credit transfer. In order to verify a qualification, MTC Australia will check that the issuing RTO exists and that they have the relevant qualification on their scope of registration. If the verification of authenticity cannot be confirmed, MTC may contact the issuing RTO to confirm the candidate's enrolment and award.

A Credit Transfer (CT) is a form of national recognition that allows a student to receive credit for study he/she has previously undertaken. Students who wish to apply for a credit transfer must hold a Certificate or Statement of Attainment that list one or more units of competency from the same training package that MTC delivers. MTC Australia will inform you if your application for a credit transfer has been granted.

Note: Fill out a Credit Transfer Application form and submit it to MTC Australia together with a verified copy of your Certificate of Statement of Attainment.

4.7 RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

Recognition of prior learning (RPL) is a process that assesses your competency, acquired through formal and informal learning, to determine if you meet the requirements for a unit of study. We recognise the prior knowledge and skills students may have gained through previous training, education or work, including formal and informal learning. Candidates suitable for RPL must have experience in life and/or work relevant to the chosen competency and be able to support this through documented evidence. Students can complete a course in full or partially through RPL.

Please contact MTC Australia on 1300 232 663 for further information about RPL.

4.8 RULES OF EVIDENCE

The assessor must ensure that the evidence is valid, current, sufficient and authentic. These are referred to as the 'Rules of Evidence' and have been defined below:

Validity

The evidence collected/gathered by the student must be relevant and from a reliable source. In order to determine relevance and reliability, the evidence must meet two assessment requirements.

- Unit of competency performance criteria; and
- Specific evidence requirements, both of these criteria are found in each unit of competency, within the relevant training package.

Currency

The evidence collected/gathered by the student must have been completed (if a certificate or previous training or letter of such a course) or documented (if a workplace report, memo, policy, procedure or other thing carried out or actioned, by the student) within the last 6 months).

The objective here is to provide or demonstrate something, which if carried out now, would resemble that which was provided or demonstrated, previously. The question is...Can the student still do now, exactly, as they did previously?

Currency is very subjective, and timelines may differ, dependent upon the type of competency or criteria being demonstrated or document submitted.

Sufficiency

The evidence collected/gathered by the student must be sufficient, that is, there must be an adequate amount of evidence submitted. Specific requirements are in line with the evidence requirements for each unit within the relevant training package. This advises the student and assessor the minimum evidence requirements needed to be collected or demonstrated.

Authenticity

The evidence collected/gathered by the student must be authentic. That is, the evidence must not be forged, untrue or misleading. For example – any previous certificate or testamur will need to be certified as a copy, by a JP or an original tendered. Reports, assessments completed, or anything created by the student, must be declared as the work of the student. Third party reports/observer reports may also be required, in replace of, or in addition to, a student’s declaration.

4.9 ASSESSMENT SUBMISSION AND RECORD KEEPING

The trainer will inform all students of the assessment schedule. Students are required to submit all assessment tasks on time and attend planned assessment sessions. Assessment evidence must be the student’s original work.

Where you may have used some information from a source, referencing is required to acknowledge information from the source/sources where you have used their information in your assessment. If you fail to reference another person’s ideas, theories or data you will be in breach of copyright or may be accused of plagiarism. Any work found to be copied from another student, or taken from a source without reference, will be deemed Not Yet Competent.

MTC Australia retains a record of all units of competency achieved by a student for a period of 30 years.

4.9.1 RE-ASSESSMENT

Some students are unable to meet the assessment requirements in the first attempt. MTC Australia understands such situation and is committed to assist all of its students in further development of their knowledge and skills with an aim to their successful completion of the assessment tasks. In such instances, we encourage you to speak to your assessors for rearranging your assessment schedules to ensure you are able to complete your qualification on time. MTC permits two (2) assessment resubmissions per unit of competency; any additional attempts must be justified and may incur a fee.

4.9.2 ASSESSMENT APPEAL PROCEDURE

Upon completion of your assessments, your Trainer/Assessor will inform you of the assessment outcome and provide you with feedback on your performance. You have the right to appeal an assessment decision if you feel that it was wrong or unfair. In such instances, you can lodge an appeal in writing within ten (10) days of receiving your result. MTC will endeavour to have the work re-marked by a different trainer within 2 weeks of the appeal application.

MTC Australia takes all assessment appeals seriously and handles them in a timely, professional and confidential manner. For more information about the assessment appeals process, please see the flowchart below. If you are satisfied with the result at any stage of the process, the appeal will end, and you do not have to do anything else. MTC
